Thank you for submitting your manuscript entitled "An explorative study of beliefs in the promotion of adolescent reproductive health from two groups of Indonesian community health promoters: informed by theory of planned behavior" to Ethnicity & Health. It has now been reviewed. The reviewer comments are included at the bottom of this letter.

The reviews are in general favourable and suggest that, subject to minor revisions, your paper could be suitable for publication. Please consider these suggestions, and I look forward to receiving your revision.

When you revise your manuscript please highlight the changes you make in the manuscript by using the track changes mode in MS Word or by using bold or coloured text.

To submit the revision, log into <https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/ceth> and enter your Author Centre, where you will find your manuscript title listed under "Manuscripts with Decisions." Under "Actions," click on "Create a Revision."

Alternatively, your revised manuscript can be submitted by way of the following link: *** PLEASE NOTE: This is a two-step process. After clicking on the link, you will be directed to a webpage to confirm. ***

Your manuscript number has been appended to denote a revision. Please enter your responses to the comments made by the reviewer(s) in the space provided. You can use this space to document any changes you made to the original manuscript. Please be as specific as possible in your response to the reviewer(s).

IMPORTANT: Your original files are available to you when you upload your revised manuscript. Please delete any redundant files before completing the submission.

Because we are trying to facilitate timely publication of manuscripts submitted to Ethnicity & Health, your revised manuscript should be uploaded as soon as possible. If it is not possible for you to submit your revision within three months, we may have to consider your paper as a new submission.

If you have any concerns or issues when submitting your revision please contact the journal's editorial office at ceth-peerreview@journals.tandf.co.uk.

Once again, thank you for submitting your manuscript to Ethnicity & Health and I look forward to receiving your revision.

Sincerely,

Comments to the Author

This is an interesting paper which makes a strong case for applying the theory of planned behavior in understanding the salient beliefs of community reproductive health promoters. It goes some way in demonstrating the need to engage with community health promoters' salient beliefs at planning stages to improve sustainability in relation to intention to promote reproductive health activities.

However, I have some concerns:

1. Situating these salient beliefs in "culture" is rather problematic. While the section "Exploring Cultural beliefs in promoting ARH" appropriately alludes to how socio - cultural contexts shape behaviour change, in this paper, the cultural aspect is rather anecdotal. The abstract reads: "... little is known about culturally specific beliefs and potential ..." I think this is potentially misleading as the reader expects the paper to engage with culturally specific beliefs & yet it engages with behavioural, normative and control beliefs. I am however mindful that these are very context dependent beliefs, so if the concept 'culture' has to be used in this study, it has to be explained & qualified, otherwise 'social' may be more appropriate.
2. Methods section – i) What sampling method/s were used to recruit research participants? ii) the use of focus group discussions and open ended questions (semi structured interviews?) used in phase 1 of the study warrants some explanation including the number of semi structured interviews and focus group discussions (plus number of participants in each) held, duration etc. Furthermore, these methods generate qualitative data which was coded and converted to numerical form (lines 23 – 46) = content analysis: this process also needs some explaining with relevant citations (how this was done etc.)
3. Ethical Considerations – while the ethical approval was sought from a relevant Ethics Review Committee; how were ethical considerations addressed in relation to individual research participants – e.g. informed consent, confidentiality etc.

4. The paper has a catalogue of grammatical errors which affects coherence in some parts, e.g.

Page 1 Line 23 – to systematically 'this' beliefs instead of 'these'

Page 4 lines 52 - 54 meaning not clear, revise

Page 6 lines 39 – 44 meaning not clear, revise

Page 10 line 45 - the word "favour" is not appropriate, do you mean "benefits"?

Page 11 line 20 - "... they tended to abide the board of management..." meaning not clear, please needs revising

Page 12 line 41- The 'result discovered' consider results/ findings showed

Same as above "... most substantial believed" do you mean "most perceived"?

Page 12 line 60 – "... those disadvantages to be of tiny possibility" do you mean inconsequential?

Page 13 line 3 – "this situation could happen owing to the frequency of health promotions ..." Needs revising, inappropriate wording

Page 14 line 46 – "this is the first step of an ongoing studies ..." needs revising; including line after next

Overall the paper requires thorough proof reading and editing

Review of: An explorative study of beliefs in the promotion of adolescent reproductive health from two groups of Indonesian community health promoters: informed by theory of planned behaviour

This study aimed to explore and compare underlying cultural beliefs in posyandu cadres and peer educators in promoting adolescent reproductive health, drawing on the theory of planned behaviour. It would be of interest to the wider readership of Ethnicity and Health and the findings have clear practical implications.

On the whole the paper is well written though the abstract needs copy editing to correct the several infelicities in the use of English.

The 'materials and methods' section states that participants were Posyandu cadres and peer educators from three villages in the Sukapura Sub-district. More information is needed on: the process for obtaining informed consent; how these participants were selected and recruited; and, of those contacted, how many declined to participate. In phase 2, there appears to be a fall-off in Posyandu cadres recruited from 20 to 14: what were the reasons for this attrition?

Minor points/typos:

p. 3, line 18. Incorrect spelling of Indonesia

p. 4, line 52. of theoretical based – of a theoretical base?

p. 8, line 8. focused group discussion – focus group discussion?

DEFINITION

1. Your article is defined as comprising (a) your Accepted Manuscript (AM) in its final form; (b) the final, definitive, and citable Version of Record (VoR) including the abstract, text, bibliography, and all accompanying tables, illustrations, data, and media; and (c) any supplemental material hosted by Taylor & Francis. This assignment and these Terms & Conditions constitute the entire agreement and the sole understanding between you and us ('agreement'); no amendment, addendum, or other communication will be taken into account when interpreting your and our rights and obligations under this agreement, unless amended by a written document signed by both of us.

TAYLOR & FRANCIS' RESPONSIBILITIES

2. If deemed acceptable by the Editors of the Journal, we shall prepare and publish your article in the Journal. We may post your accepted manuscript in advance of the formal publication of the VoR. We reserve the right to make such editorial changes as may be necessary to make the article suitable for publication, or as we reasonably consider necessary to avoid infringing third-party rights or breaching any laws; and we reserve the right not to proceed with publication for whatever reason.
3. Taylor & Francis will deposit your Accepted Manuscript (AM) to any designated institutional repository including PubMedCentral \(PMC\) with which Taylor & Francis has an article deposit agreement; see 4 iv (a) below.

RIGHTS RETAINED BY YOU AS AUTHOR

4. These rights are personal to you, and your co-authors, and cannot be transferred by you to anyone else. Without prejudice to your rights as author set out below, you undertake that the fully reference-linked Version of Record (VOR) will not be published elsewhere without our prior written consent.   - i. The right to be identified as the author of your article, whenever and wherever the article is published, such rights including moral rights arising under § 77, Copyright, Designs & Patents Act 1988, and, so far as is legally possible, any corresponding rights we may have in any territory of the world.
  - ii. The right to retain patent rights, trademark rights, or rights to any process, product or procedure described in your article.
  - iii. The right to post and maintain at any time the Author's Original Manuscript (AOM; your manuscript in its original and unrefereed form; a 'preprint').
  - iv. The right to post at any time after publication of the VoR your AM (your manuscript in its revised after peer review and accepted for publication form; a 'postprint') as a digital file on your own personal or departmental website, provided that you do not use the VoR published by us, and that you include any amendments or deletions or warnings relating to the article issued or published by us; and with the acknowledgement: 'The Version of Record of this manuscript has been published and is available in <JOURNAL TITLE> <date of publication> <http://www.tandfonline.com> <Article DOI>.'
    - a. Please note that embargoes apply with respect to posting the AM to an institutional or subject repository. For further information, please see our list of journals with applicable embargo periods. For the avoidance of doubt, you are not permitted to post the final published paper, the VoR published by us, to any site, unless it has been published as Open Access on our website.
    - b. If, following publication, you or your funder pay an Article Publishing Charge for retrospective Open Access publication, you may then opt for one of three licenses: CC BY, CC BY-NC, or CC BY-NC-ND; if you do not respond, we shall assign a CC BY licence. All rights in the article will revert to you as author.
  - v. The right to share with colleagues copies of the article in its published form as supplied to you by Taylor & Francis as a digital eprint or printed reprint on a non-commercial basis.
  - vi. The right to make printed copies of all or part of the article on a non-commercial basis for use by you for lecture or classroom purposes provided that such copies are not offered for sale or distributed in any systematic way, and provided that acknowledgement to prior publication in the Journal is given.
  - vii. The right, if the article has been produced within the scope of your employment, for your employer to use all or part of the article internally within the institution or company on a non-commercial basis provided that acknowledgement to prior publication in the Journal is given.
  - viii. The right to include the article in a thesis or dissertation that is not to be published commercially, provided that acknowledgement to prior publication in the Journal is given.
  - ix. The right to present the article at a meeting or conference and to distribute printed copies of the article to the delegates attending the meeting provided that this is not for commercial purposes and provided that acknowledgement to prior publication in the Journal is given.
  - x. The right to use the article in its published form in whole or in part without revision or modification in personal compilations, or other publications of your own work, provided that acknowledgement to prior publication in the Journal is given.
  - xi. The right to expand your article into book-length form for publication provided that acknowledgement to prior publication in the Journal is made explicit (see below). Where permission is sought to re-use an article in a book chapter or edited collection on a commercial basis a fee will be due, payable by the publisher of the new work. Where you as the author of the article have had the lead role in the new work (i.e., you are the author of the new work or the editor of the edited collection), fees will be waived. Dear Prof. Widyarini,

Thank you for the email.

I have corrected the affiliation section and reposted the article on Nov 6, 2020.

Please check the article in TFO and let me know whether the affiliation are updated or not. On your response, I will check with the EP team.

Best regards,
Geetha

Dear Geetha,

Thank you for your email.

We have checked our article in TFO, entitled:

As we agreed in arranging to update the affiliation section for first author (Nurlaela Widyarini), so it would be:

Nurlaela Widyarini<sup>ab</sup>: <sup>a</sup>. Faculty of Psychology, University of Muhammadiyah Jember and

And as the consequences, we follow the correction policy from the publisher, so it would be statement will be included as footnote:

This article has been corrected with minor changes. These changes do not impact the academic content of the article.

I have downloaded the preprint of our article (please find the attachment). We couldn't find the affiliation update as we have discussed.

Thank you very much for your help and assistance.

Regards,

Nurlaela Widyarini

Dear Geetha,

Thank you for the the last version of our article and updated the affiliation as per correction policy. We agreed with the last update as in your attachment.

But unfortunately, when we open at TFO , from the website: <https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/13557858.2020.1838453>, the status of our article still not updated yet.

Also, we are not sure what went wrong.

Please inform me, how to check it from our end so we can confirm you.

Thank you for your assistance...

Regards,

Nurlaela Widyarini

Dear Prof. Widyarini,

I am afraid. I have made the necessary updates and reposted the article. However, it has not updated in TFO page.

I will check with the XML team and arrange to reupload the file again.
