PREFACE

Thanks to Allah for His blessing and love. He gave me strength to finish my thesis.

My thesis focuses on the writing skill. This thesis is written to give the readers new idea of teaching descriptive writing through parts of speech mastery. Activating students' background knowledge about the words function and position in the sentence will make them more prepared. In this case, parts of speech mastery is the best thing to teach.

After all, this research is intended to make the students more autonomous. They know not only how the construction of a sentence is but also how to construct the sentence. Finally, to prove the assumption, the research is conducted to answer “does parts of speech mastery affect students' descriptive writing skill”

I hope this research can give positive contribution to English teaching and help teachers and learners to learn English effectively.
