PREFACE

Thanks to Allah for all His blessings and loves. Allah gave me power to finish my thesis. My thesis focuses on listening skill. The motivation behind this study stems from the recognition of the challenges faced by intermediate ESL students in developing proficient listening comprehension skills. As technology reshapes the educational landscape, it is crucial to critically assess its role and effectiveness in addressing these challenges.

This exploration would not have been possible without the support and guidance of mentors, colleagues, and the participants who generously shared their experiences. As the narrative unfolds, readers are invited to join this intellectual expedition, exploring the evolving landscape of language education through the lens of English podcasts and their impact on the listening comprehension skills of intermediate ESL students.
